Alpa Exchange at the Department of Legal Sciences of Sapienza University of Rome

You are invited to apply for the academic exchange programme between the Institute of European and Comparative Law, on behalf of the Law Faculty, and the Department of Legal Sciences of Sapienza University of Rome. Each academic year, one member of the Oxford Law Faculty may spend up to two months at Sapienza, or up to two members may visit for shorter periods totalling two months.

The exchange is open to Faculty members and graduate research students of the Oxford Law Faculty, with preference normally given to doctoral students. Visitors are entitled to attend lectures and will have access to the Department of Legal Sciences at Sapienza, including a shared desk, library resources, and printing and copying facilities. Travel and accommodation costs are not covered, but guidance on possible accommodation options can be provided by Sapienza. A maximum contribution of £1,500 will be made towards the visit, including travel and accommodation costs.

The timing of the visit is flexible and will be agreed between the Scholar and the Dean at Sapienza. It should take place before the end of the 2026-27 academic year (i.e., by the end of September 2027), with an awareness that the University is shut in August, and activity is usually less in July.

Faculty members and graduate research students who wish visit Sapienza during the academic year 2026-27 should submit their application via this Form by 12:00 noon on Friday of Week 0, Hilary Term (15 January 2027).

Applications should include the completed application form, a (short) statement setting out your research project and indicating how a research visit to Sapienza University of Rome will contribute to the project, a curriculum vitae and a list of publications. In the case of graduate students, the support of the supervisor is necessary.

Professor Solanke (iyiola.solanke@law.ox.ac.uk), Director of the Institute, welcomes informal enquiries.
